Looking after one another – The safety and security of our faith communities

Following the recent attack on a mosque in Christchurch, New Zealand, Revd Peter Cheesman, Civil Protection Advisor with Gloucestershire Churches Together has provided a copy of the advice from The Inter Faith Network UK “Looking after one another”. This document gives practical pointers for responding jointly to attacks on places of worship; working for calm in times of tension; and working to build and strengthen good inter faith relations. A copy of the booklet is sent with this newsletter, and you can also download a copy from the following link www.interfaith.org.uk/resources/publications.
